

Imperial Tea & Spices<sup>o</sup>

If you expect from tea, then gives what tea expects from you

Imperial Tea and Spices presents a bouquet of flavours, aroma and tastes of quality teas from the rich gardens of India of tea growing regions. A quality product in colourful traditional packing giving consumers the possibilities for constant and continuous availability of best pure tea of their choice for any time of the day, and also with these teas to create their own melanges according to their desired taste, aroma.

Experience says there is no match to purity or good experience. The delicacy of tea comes in being from the growing of the tea bushes, the tender care and harvesting, careful selection, progressive processing and preservation and above all, expecting from tea and in return being capable to give a part of yourself and your effort to prepare the tea. When all these aspects are working together, then the result will become the reference of taste and flavour of a pure tea. Pure tea needs no supplements to enhance its honour.

FOUR ALL MOMENTS. It is an introduction to tea world, enjoy the pure teas and for variation of your desired taste create your own melanges for whatever taste, colour or aroma your desire to achieve.

ASSAM TEA The strength of its tenderness lies in the versatile use of pure Assam tea. Assam tea maintains its character, aroma and taste when consumed as pure black tea or cooked with milk as traditional Indian tea. It is a major component of most of the melanges to create variation in taste with strong character.

Pure Tea

Queen of Desire (Darjeeling)
Connoisseur's choice

Ultimo (Nilgiri)
Known for its performance

Le Grand (Assam)
From the grand tea gardens of Assam

DARJEELING TEA Needs no introduction. Darjeeling name is synonymous for Elegance of Taste as Champagne is to celebration. Darjeeling is often referred to as Champagne of tea. It's flavour, aroma, texture taste are known for ultimate experience in tea drinking. There is no other tea that can be compared to the high presentation of Darjeeling.

NILGIRI TEA The Nilgiris, which literally mean the "Blue Mountains" a: Nilgiri is flavour, aroma, texture and taste packed in one body and is used for ice tea and strong tea for rich food and freshness. The after-taste of Nilgiri incites to keep drinking more than one cup. The reliability of its potential lies in use for the different times of the day in different strength and still maintaining the same taste.

The Myth of Melanges. You can experience this myth if you find a blend of teas so-called melange, without explanations of what you can expect or explain in terms of taste, aroma, composition and origin of the melange, details that are understandable in an analytical way. You can then realize that it will be a commercial construction and not a product that will fulfill the desires of a connoisseur.

Le Suprême (Earl Grey)
Leader of the teas

EARL GREY A combination of Darjeeling leaf tea with Bergamot oil. It gives a slight rich after-taste when taken as black tea or maintaining its slightly strong flavour when taken with little quantity of milk.

Kashmiri Kawa (Green Tea)
From the valley of passion

KASHMIRI KAWA A traditional green tea prepared with spices and consumed all through the day in the chilled winter climate of Kashmir. A ritual of drinking herbal concoctions, the Kashmiri Kawa was born and the simplification of it is called Green Tea.

World of Melange

Breakfast tea and Earl Grey are the two most successful tea melange for many decades. These melanges are part of everyday life for tea lovers around the world. In fact a true melange is a perfect blend which create a balanced flavour, taste, aroma and texture with totally fresh appeal then the pure teas.

Forever (English Breakfast tea)
Some things never change such as English Breakfast

ENGLISH BREAKFAST TEA Breakfast tea has almost become non-alcoholic liquor to accompany the rich English breakfast, fried eggs, sausage, bacon, tomatoes, potatoes and green peas amongst other things. The Darjeeling contributes to the flavour, while the Assam contributes to the strength and the liquor concoction of tea.

Traditional Recipes

Some traditions are as old as the wisdom of the regions, and some habits embed themselves in the behaviours and performance of the behaviour becomes a ritual.

Fortune of Desires (Chai)
Gift for the hermits, desires of the hippies

CHAI WALA India traditional tea is the crown and the currency of everyday life. It is a greeting when you share tea. It is the moment of truth when tea is on its best.
